“Report on Engineer’s Day Celebration”

H.K.E. Society's Sir M. Visvesvaraya College of Engineering, Raichur, celebrated Engineer's Day with great enthusiasm and reverence on the auspicious occasion of Bharat Ratna Sir M. Visvesvaraya's birth anniversary. The program was organized to honor the legendary engineer whose vision, dedication, and contributions to the field of engineering have left an everlasting impact on the nation.

The event commenced with watering the plant floral tribute to Sir M. Visvesvaraya, followed by a welcome address

The celebration was graced by the presence of Shri Nishant G. Yeli, governing council member and convener of HKES's SMVCER, along with the Principal, Heads of Departments, staff members, students, and parents. Shri Yeli addressed the gathering, emphasizing the role of engineers in nation-building and inspiring students to follow the path of innovation, discipline, and service as exemplified by Sir M. Visvesvaraya.

The program included motivational talks highlighting the importance of engineering in shaping the modern world. Faculty members and students actively participated, making the event more engaging and memorable.
